NUMBER 2019AI: SUPPLY AND DELIVERY OF ANTIBIOTIC MEDICINES

Announcement for the Allocation of Pharmaceuticals Licences

(Pharmaceuticals) (Licences)

1. The Department of Health Services (DHS) is pleased to announce the allocation of pharmaceuticals licences for the supply and delivery of antibiotic medicines. The allocation process is based on the following criteria: (a) the applicant's financial soundness; (b) the applicant's track record in the supply and delivery of pharmaceuticals; (c) the applicant's compliance with the relevant regulatory requirements; and (d) the applicant's ability to meet the demand for the medicines in question. The DHS will be conducting a public tender process for the allocation of these licences. Interested parties should submit their bids to the DHS by the closing date. The DHS reserves the right to accept or reject any bid without giving any reason therefor. The DHS will be publishing the results of the tender process on its website. For more information, please contact the DHS at the contact details provided below.
