Minister Phaahla to cast special vote at Ga-Phaahla village, Limpopo

Pretoria: Minister of Health, Dr Joe Phaahla will tomorrow join over 1,6 million South Africans who have been approved for Special Votes scheduled to place on Monday and Tuesday across the country, as part of the 2024 National and Provincial elections.

Minister Phaahla will cast his special vote in his home village of Ga-Phaahla, under Makhuduthamaga local municipality, in Sekhukhune District, Limpopo Province.

Special vote allows a registered voter who cannot vote at their voting station on election day to vote on a specific day before election day. Minister Phaahla will be available for media interaction after exercising his democratic right to vote.

Details of voting are as follows:

Date: Monday, 27 May 2024
Time: 12h45
Venue: Kgapyane Creche, Ga
